

1. Customer Due Diligence

Financial institutions must identify and verify customers using appropriate customer information.

2. Transaction Monitoring

Institutions should monitor transactions for patterns that may indicate suspicious or unusual activity.